OVERHEAD CRANES, HOISTS,
CONVEYOR SYSTEMS & STORAGE RACKS

A MAZZELLA COMPANY

Material Handling, is one of the most critical parts of the Steel Industry. NASA is pleased to announce a new offering from, FHS, Inc. a Mazzella Company. FHS offers solutions for your needs from Overhead Cranes, Hoists, Parts and Service, Modifications, Work Station Cranes, Crane Inspections, Preventative Maintenance, Storage Rack, Mezzanine Systems, Conveyor Systems, Engineered Lifting Devices, Slings, Chains and Fall Arrest Devices.

FHS Inc., with primary locations east of the Mississippi, can be both a Regional and National Supplier to NASA. Many of our products such as long span heavy duty cranes, hoists, storage rack systems, conveyor systems and engineered lifting devices can “travel”. With the special design and engineering of these products they are not restricted to any specific geographical area. FHS has stocking, fabrication facilities, and service technicians in Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, Louisiana, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Michigan, Tennessee and Ohio. We can offer our products to any part of the country serving NASA Companies with Quality Products and Services.

FHS’s staff of over 100 Crane Service Technicians and growing is more regionally situated in the eastern sections of the US. Our 24/7 service technicians are highly trained and operate from heavily stocked service vehicles that carry the most common parts needed for service and repairs. They are qualified to perform OSHA Inspections Annually, Quarterly and Monthly in addition to everyday repairs and maintenance. FHS offers personalized service which includes On-Line inspection reporting as well as a professional staff of qualified parts and service personnel that can meet the requirements of the members of NASA.

FHS Inc. and the Mazzella Family of Companies, are much like the NASA members, privately held, family owned and believe in the delivery of quality and service as the primary objective. “The Bitterness of Poor Quality Remains Long After the Sweetness of Low Price!” For More Information Contact John Walmsley, 813-728-4691 or jwalmsley@fhsinc.com.
